LAMINATING PROCESS

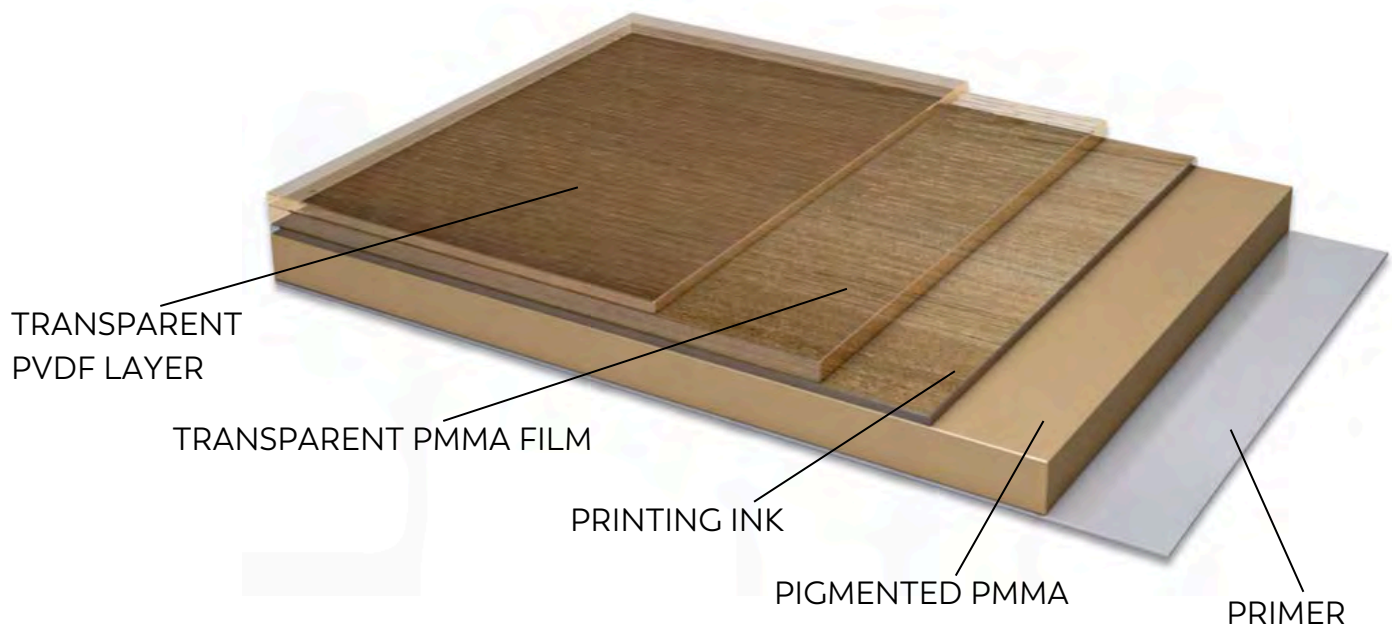

Our exterior color laminate finishes offer unmatched durability, thanks to an advanced multi-layer structure that ensures long-lasting color retention even in harsh, UV-intensive climates. This high-performance film retains its vibrant appearance throughout its lifespan, delivering exceptional longevity and visual appeal.

This advanced European technology combines a top layer of polyvinylidene fluoride (PVDF), a transparent polymethylmethacrylate (PMMA) middle layer, and a base infused with infrared-reflecting pigments. Together, these layers deliver outstanding resistance to environmental wear while maintaining the film's rich color and refined appearance.

Additionally, the reverse side of the film is coated with a specially formulated primer to ensure uniform adhesion and superior bond strength. At five times the thickness of traditional paint, our laminate delivers enhanced resilience and long-term performance, making it the ideal choice for a low-maintenance, ultra-durable exterior finish. Backed by a 20-year warranty, this worry-free European film is built to last.
